

I am a producer at Easton Community Access Television (ECAT) in Easton, Massachusetts for a long period of time. However, I assist when and where I can videoing competition of all sports, high school, college mostly in Easton. The following organizations are part of ECAT programming - VFW, American Legion, Veteran Business Owners Associations and other functions of veterans recognition and dedications of those served or serving in the military. The Grange, Senior Club, substance abuse prevention, Boy Scouts, parades, Christmas celebrations - these are examples of how involved ECAT is in various community activities beyond the usual Town official responsibilities.

ECAT has created a most welcoming relationship with the Town of Easton in so many ways. Information, communication, programming is excellent and very necessary. For me, ECAT is the information channel for the town of Easton. Many of us are too busy to attend the local meetings in Town, but we are well informed as to what is happening which gives us choices with knowledge we have acquired by watching channels 9, 97, 98 on Comcast or 22, 23 or 24 on Verizon, ECAT makes Easton a great place to live and flourish for all its citizens.

Sincerely,
